The Ontario Hummingbird Project
Feeder Watch

There are several ways to complete the Feeder Watch:

You can watch your feeders for a 15 minute period and count every hummingbird that you see during this time. If possible, keep separate totals for males and females. This can be done daily, once a week, or whenever you have time. Enter your information by following the example on the first line.

Another method is to simply count the maximum number of hummingbirds that you see at any point during the day. Enter your information by following the example on the second line.
